Special Notices.

One of the finest improvements in the city will be the re-building of the Lafayette Hotel. The whole of the back of the house is already being torn down, and the front will shortly be built up. The stores will be just half as large as they are now, and, as the front part has a very large stock on hand, they will not have half room enough for their goods and in order to prevent them from being damaged by dirt and dust, they have decided to sell all their Spring goods at less than cost, and others such as cottons, table-linen, etc., at exact cost. We advise all to call at the important and convince themselves of the great bargains. Such bargains can never get again, and in order to prevent a great rush, we advise all to call early and take advantage of the building of the Lafayette Hotel. 16

The auction sales of the Santa Gertrude lands fixed for the 19th, 20th and 21st of the month have been unavoidably postponed in consequence of the illness of the surveyor and the managing agent Mr. Edward McLain. The postponement contemplates the sale of the property on the 26th, 27th and 28th of May. April 17th

CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

TUESDAY, APRIL 27, 1875.

Editor at Home.

Our chief has returned, much invigorated by rest from his labors and the pleasant reunions among his old friends in the up-country. He will resume his chair this morning, and the Herald readers, who have lived upon such hash as we have been able to dish out to them for the last three weeks, may expect a feast of fat things which will richly compensate them for our shortcomings.

Adios, — SUB.

Good News.

We have just been informed by Col. Heswitt, Superintendent of the Southern Pacific Railroad, that the Atlantic and Pacific telegraph line will be completed to this city within the next forty-eight hours. If there has been no mishap, the construction company reached Lyons' Station last night. Eight miles more will connect them with San Fernando, and that connects with this city, as the line is already built from this city to San Fernando. There will at once be an office established in this city for the accommodation of the public. We have neither time nor space to tell the public all the benefits we shall receive from this line.

A Plea for Women.

That irrepressible "Ludus" is on our track again about the women. We have several objections to entering into a controversy on this subject. Nobody knows who "Ludus" is, or whether he or she wears boots or crinoline. We never had a controversy with a woman that we did not have to beg off in order to get her to stop it. We do not know what "Ludus" wants. He or she is not satisfied that women suffrage would be desirable, which is the only point in controversy on that subject in the United States. It is true we were taken to task for saying we did not believe women would make good editors, and we stick to it. If "Ludus" can convince us that we are wrong, we will gladly acknowledge the error. What "Ludus" says about the treatment of the poor women in Asia, Africa and Holland may be correct, but we can't help it. If we are on our way, we would flog all the old he fellows in those nations until they would treat their women better. But what could we do if we were to start on a mission of that kind. We would only get ourselves into trouble and might be badly whipped before we got through. As for the "noble red man of America," we have done all we could to beat some sense into his head by employing such men as General CROOK. If they don't improve very soon, we propose to turn them all over to PHIL SHERIDAN, and let him exterminate the race. The allusion to the Mormons was unfortunate for "Ludus." There are three or four women to one man there and if they can't lookout for themselves with this odds in their favor, they are not competent to take charge of Government affairs anywhere, besides it was their own choice to go there, and they are at liberty to leave when they please. As to the case of Adam, there never was a man who made so great a sacrifice as he did. He saw that Eve's curiosity had brought destruction upon her, and that a final separation was inevitable unless he ate a part of the same fruit, and rather than be separated he ate a part of the same fruit that he might share her fate and remain with her. Very few men could be found that would show so much gallantry now while women are so plenty. We expect the treatment of women in and around Washington has been bad, but they have kept it hid from the world and we can't learn much about it. But we hope to have a better set of men there next session. We do not know of any law that could be passed to better the condition of the poor women, except to have the Government appoint about fifty men in each county whose business it shall be to go around and chastise every man that abuses a woman. If Congress refuses to pass such a law, Ludus must get up a private organization to employ men to do that work—or, we are even willing that Ludus shall have all the female editors he, or she, wants—only, "Let us have peace."

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, April 23d.—Investigation of the mail contract fraud is still progressing by the Postmaster General and Second Assistant Postmaster-General Tyner, who this morning discovered a fraudulent bill among those for mail routes in Louisiana. About six clerks have been already discharged for complicity in the frauds, and it is understood that at least a dozen more are implicated. Tyner states that the department are determined to make a thorough investigation, if it takes all Summer.

Wool Market.

BOSTON, April 24th.—Several shipments of California wool have been received and other consignments are close at hand. Pulled and superfine lots are in demand; 90,000 new Spring clip California sold at 22c-30cts. There is a disposition to place the new Spring clip on the market as fast as received, as nothing will be gained by holding. The margin is very close, and holders will find it difficult to obtain cost for many lots. The break in the Pacific road is keeping back a large supply.

St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, April 24th.—Arthur B. Barrett, Mayor of this city, died at 4:30 this morning, of inflammation of the bowels, superinduced by overwork during the recent canvass.

MORE OF THE STEAMSHIP DISASTER

The Statement about the "Fog Bank" Still Refuted—The Breakers Could be Seen Plainly—A Screw Loose Somewhere—Letter from One of the Unfortunate Passengers—How Kindly (?) the People in the vicinity of the Wreck Acted.

We are well aware that after such a calamity as the wrecking of the Ventura, all sorts of stories will gain circulation and that fault will be found by the sufferers, with or without cause. Since the arrival of the wrecked passengers of the Ventura in our city, we have conversed with many of them and have heard all sides of the question thoroughly discussed. Capt. Fiske, of course, comes in for a full measure of the blame, some alleging that he paid too much attention to two ladies who were accommodated in his stateroom and others that he was under the influence of liquor. These views are controverted by still others, which account for the accident by the variation of the compass. This reason has the advantage of logic, at least. The Ventura was an iron ship, and in such vessels the compass is always liable to more or less variation from the true point. At best, it is a vexed question and altogether too weighty for us to express an opinion upon, with nothing more than hearsay for authority. That there was a great lack of discipline evinced among the crew at the time of the wreck, all agree. As to the dense fog bank which is said to have prevailed, we have a complete denial of its existence from several gentlemen whom we consider candid and reliable. One stated that they had passed a fog, but that it had entirely cleared away at least fifteen minutes before the accident, and that the breakers were plainly visible. The relief watch, whose duty it was to go on at 8 o'clock informed the gentleman that as he (the relief) was approaching the wheel-house and standing within 20 feet of it, he noticed the breakers ahead and said to the mate at the wheel: "You are going to strike that rock." The mate replied: "I am not running by the rock, but by the compass." Our informant was unable to state where the Captain was at the time. The two boat-loads of passengers who were sent out all night owe their unnecessary exposure to the fact that the crews had no instructions as to the course which they should take to the beach. They steered down the coast in hopes of finding a landing, but met a rocky shore all the way down until morning, when they landed about seven miles below the wreck and were compelled to walk back to their companions. All of the passengers lost their baggage, with the exception of what they are able to carry in their hands. Worse than this, several who left their valises on deck for a short time during the excitement, found them broken open and pillaged upon returning.

Concerning the treatment which the passengers received after the disaster we submit the following letter from a gentleman who, with his wife and two children, was among the unfortunate:

EDITOR HERALD: I wish to correct a statement which I find in the San Francisco Herald of the 23d instant. That paper says: "The passengers all speak in praise of the generosity of the rancheros in the vicinity of the wrecks." They were abundantly supplied with meat and such other articles as the sparsely settled neighborhood afforded." The party who furnished the meat here mentioned was Mr. Burns, of Cooper's ranch, who only did so upon the promise that he would be well paid for it. Those who furnish transportation to Monterey—Mr. Burns and Mr. Alex. Raney—carried myself and another gentleman, together with my wife and two children the distance of twenty-eight miles for the small sum of sixty dollars in gold coin. Very kind of them, was it not? Four of our party rode in a wagon and another on horseback. Mr. Burns provided us with a hay-mow in which to sleep and slap-jacks and coffee without milk or sugar for the modest price of one dollar each. These statements I am able to substantiate by other passengers who were eyewitnesses to the transaction. I simply want justice done to these men, of whom "the passengers all speak in praise." Let the public know what kind of men they are who thus took mean, disreputable advantage of our misfortunes. Respectfully,

A. C. NIXON.
Los Angeles, April 26th.

Pacific Mail Company.

CHICAGO, April 22d.—Henry Hart, General Manager for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in China and Japan, leaves here to-morrow morning in a special car for San Francisco, President Dillon, of the Union Pacific Railroad, having telegraphed that the car will go through in time to connect with the steamer of May 1st. Ex-Governor McCook, of Colorado, and Congressman Garfield are with Mr. Hart's party.

NEW YORK, April 24th.—The settlement of the contentious suit regarding to freight and passenger fares pending between the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the Panama Railroad Company was reached yesterday. By the new contract it is agreed on the part of the Pacific Mail Company to guarantee to the Panama Railroad $40,000 per month of through freight, which is an increase of about $1,800 over the amount received by that road last year. It is also agreed that the road shall have the same number of passengers guaranteed to it as it had last year, during which time the fares amounted to about one hundred thousand dollars. By another clause in the contract the railroad is to have one-third of the freights received from the Panama trade, which has developed largely during the last few years, the road's share of which will be about one hundred thousand dollars. The steamship company have further agreed that all coal sent from New York to Panama, to be used by their vessels, shall be sent by railroad and be paid for at the rate of $5.50 per ton. Local rates for South America and Central America are to be paid as before.

CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

TUESDAY, APRIL 27, 1875

GOLD REPORT.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.

Gold, 115½. Greenbacks—Buying, 87; selling, 88.

LOCAL BREVIETIES.

The Ancon sails for San Francisco to-day.

Remember the sale of the Park Square property commences to-day.

N. C. Carter, the excursionist, left last evening by the overland route for San Francisco.

They propose to organize a club for the cultivation of swearing as a science and fine art in Santa Barbara.

The Cosmopolitan Club will meet at the St. Charles Hotel at 7:30 this evening. All members are required to be on hand.

D. H. S. Orme, who has been in San Francisco attending the session of the Grand Commandery, returned to the city yesterday.

The Santa Cruz Enterprise, which died some time since, has been resurrected by a Mr. Coffin. The thought is mournfully suggestive.

Capt. Geo. S. Price, U. S. A., passed through this city yesterday on his way to join his regiment in Arizona, which has been ordered to Kansas.

The sad news of the death of Don Jose Sepulveda came by telegraph yesterday. He died at Cavorca, Sonora, on the 17th inst., aged 71 years. He leaves a widow and seven children and a large circle of friends.

Messrs. Williams & Smith, of the Cottage Photograph Gallery, accompanied by Mr. Carreras, will visit the Chino Ranch to-day for the purpose of taking views of scenery and of Mr. Stewart's blooded stock.

Mr. Wells, of the firm of Wells, Fargo & Co., passed through the city yesterday on his way to Arizona. He goes to that Territory to extend the lines of the Express Company and establish offices.

We understand that a foot-race is on the tapis, one of the contestants in which will be the young man Celis, who distinguished himself in running at the Irish picnic. The distance will be 100 yards and a purse of $500 will be awarded to the winner.

The tally-list kept by Miss E. M. Turner and Miss Belle Page, of the Postoffice Emporium, shows that 1,500 persons entered the Postoffice yesterday forenoon and 2,131 in the afternoon, making a total of 3,631. This shows an increase of 886 from Saturday's count.

A man named Henry Myers, who is employed in a restaurant on Commercial street, became tired of life, and about noon yesterday attempted to commit suicide by taking laudanum. Dr. Stanway was called in, and after working several hours with him, pronounced him out of danger.

Mr. Miller, one of the workmen at the Temple oil well, came to the city Saturday for a stay of several days. He informs us that the sand has been cleaned out of the well and the drill is still going down, having now reached a depth of 290 feet. The workmen are pumping about four barrels of oil a day. The prospect continues good for a flowing well.

The headquarters of the Cerro Gordo Freight Company have been transferred from San Fernando to Allen's Camp, the present terminus of the Southern Pacific road South of Bakersfield. The freighting depot will doubtless remain at that point for a year or more and then be brought further South as the road is extended.

Shaking the dice for drinks in Valjeo is one of the lost arts. The question is now put in this way: "Will you spell me for the drinks?" If the other party acquiesces they both step up to the bar, and the man behind it produces a speller and a Webster's dictionary—all saloons which are au fait have these two books—and the contest begins at once. The man whose orthography won't stand the ordeal faces the music.

TURN-VEREIN HALL.

The hall, except the portion reserved for the procession, was well filled with an intelligent audience, anxious to hear more of the benevolent order of Odd Fellows. Places were reserved on the stage for the orator of the day, chaplain, grand marshal and grand officers, and the remainder of the members were assigned places on the floor, with the band in front.

THE MARCH.

The column passed up Main street to the Plaza where it was counter-marched to the Backman House to receive the Orator of the Day, P. G. M.

Charles N. Fox, P. G. M. Rev. W. H.

Hill, D. D. G. M. Henry Wortsberg,

President Horace Burdick, Vice-President A. W. Hutton. These distinguished brothers soon appeared and were conducted by the Marshal and his assistants through the open ranks of a carriage in waiting, which brought up the rear of the procession for the remainder of the march.

Slowly the imposing pageant, amidst a multitude of spectators, took up its line of march down Spring street to First street, up First to Fort street, down Fort to Fourth street,

along Fourth to Spring street, and up

Spring to Turner Hall. Here, with open ranks, the order was reversed

and the orator and grand officers entered the hall first, while the outside guardian brought up the rear of the column.

THE BENEDICTION.

Now, unto Him who is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of His glory, with exceeding joy, I command

you and the whole family of man;

and to him, the only wise God, our Saviour, be glory and majesty, do-mension and power, now and forever.

Amen.

THE FINAL MARCH.

The line was again formed in procession order and marched down

Spring to Fourth, along Fourth to

Main, up Main to Odd Fellows' Hall,

where the line was broken and members dismissed.

EVENING EXERCISES.

At seven o'clock, Angelito Lodge,
